

RESCUERS REACH TWO MEN IMPRISONED IN MINE

WPA KILLER HAD PLANNED VISIT TO SANITARIUM

Superintendent Lock Project Held to Mercer Grand Jury

Keithsburg, Ill., April 22.—(AP)—A coroner's jury which investigated the fatal shooting yesterday morning of Roger Johnson, 19, decided he came to his death at the hand of John Collins, 39, carpenter superintendent on the Mississippi river lock project No. 1 at New Boston. It recommended that Collins be held to the grand jury.

Collins is being held in the Mercer county jail at Alton following his surrender yesterday, a few hours after the shooting.

At Alton today State's Attorney Stanton H. Prentiss stated that he planned to have the defendant arraigned late this afternoon before an Alton justice on a charge of murder and that the April grand jury likely will be recalled if Collins is bound over.

Planned Sanatorium Stay
That Collins had planned to enter an Ottawa, Ill., sanatorium for treatment of a nervous disorder the day of the shooting, was revealed at the inquest conducted by Dr. V. A. Clanshan, Mercer county coroner.

Nathan Chapin of New Boston, who spent Monday night with Collins, testified that he was planning to accompany Collins to the Ottawa institution the next morning.

Collins already had his clothes packed for the trip but arose early Tuesday morning and went to the home of young Johnson and demanded information regarding the whereabouts of his wife, Louise, whom the youth had accompanied on a recent automobile trip to the coast.

Chapin declared that Collins returned with the gun under his arm and admitted having killed the youth.

Dr. D. A. Menell testified that he was called to the Collins home Monday evening and found Collins in a very nervous condition. The physician said he detected no odor of alcohol about him and that he advised Collins to enter the Ottawa sanatorium as soon as possible.

Had Been Intoxicated
G. H. Fisher, with whom the Johnson youth resided, stated that Collins came to his home Sunday morning in an intoxicated condition, displaying some fish which he intended to take home and cook.

Fisher testified he persuaded Collins to permit Mrs. Fisher to cook them for him and that he was given breakfast that day at the Fisher home.

Fisher also testified that Collins had asked to see Johnson Monday upon his return from the coast by airplane and that the two talked over details of Johnson's trip to California in which he said he had acted as chauffeur, for Mrs. Collins Johnson told Collins that his wife had paid him $5 for his services and also purchased his plane ticket back to Burlington.

Controlled Inflation Like Controlled Drug Habit Says Educator

Chicago, April 22.—(AP)—Members of the Illinois Manufacturers Costs Association today were considering the assertion of Prof. Edwin W. Kemmerer of Princeton University that "one of the greatest dangers threatening the American people today is the danger of serious inflation."

"Controlling inflation," said Prof. Kemmerer at the association's annual dinner last night, "is like controlling the opium habit."

For the three-year period ending June 30, 1936, he said, the annual national budget deficit averaged about $3,000,000,000 and will be greatly increased next year through payment of about $2,250,000,000 in "baby bonds" to veterans.

Two Children Killed in Burning Residence

Petersburg, Ill., April 22.—(AP)—Trapped in an upstairs room, two children, Lois McWhorter, 9, and her 6-year-old brother, Arthur, were burned to death near here today.

Ten other children, their mother, Mrs. George McWhorter and their grandfather escaped before fire destroyed the family home in a lumber camp 6 miles from here. The father was absent overnight on business.

The tragedy occurred shortly before 1 A. M. Mrs. McWhorter blamed a defective flue for the fire.

Under Quarantine

Vandalia, Ill., April 22.—(AP)—The rapid spread of scarlet fever at the state prison farm north of here, resulted in orders by health authorities today to quarantine all six dormitories.

Health authorities reported 30 prisoners were ill with scarlet fever and 75 others ill with influenza.

With all work at the institution halted while efforts were being made to fight the spread of the disease, 650 inmates remain idle and all out going mail from the penal farm has been stopped, authorities said.

Several guards whose homes are in Vandalia also are ill with scarlet fever and their homes quarantined.

George E. Ray, superintendent of the farm, was called back from a vacation trip in Canada.

NEW BUSINESS BUILDING PLAN OF WM. SCHULER

W. A. Schuler, who has done much to improve Dixon by erecting substantial and modern buildings, this morning, announced plans for a new building to house S. C. Stanfield's laundry at 319 First street, replacing the old two story structure it now occupies. The new building, which will be modern and fire-proof, will be 30 x 110 feet in dimensions, basement and one story. Mr. Schuler also is planning construction of a six room house on E. McKenney street this summer.

While the laundry building is being razed and the new structure completed, Mr. Stanfield will continue his laundry business, the location to be announced soon, and will equip the new structure with completely new and up-to-date machinery.

Legislature Takes Recess: No Action on Relief Problem

Springfield, Ill., April 22.—(AP)—The legislature adjourned this morning until Monday night without acting on relief problems.

Leaders went into another conference on the crisis. They met in the office of Speaker John Devine with Governor Horner present. Out of the discussions, they hoped to bring some plan to solve the problems which must be met by May 1 if state relief is to continue after that date.

Previously, before the two houses adjourned for the week, Devine and other Democrats conferred with the governor in his office. None of the Chicagoans who are demanding an outright appropriation of $6,000,000 for relief was present at the first meeting, but attended the second larger conference in Devine's office.

Horner told leaders that it was impossible for the state to finance relief in May and June because it would have a deficit of $280,000 by July 1 regardless of any further appropriations of any sort.

VOTE FRAUD CHARGED

Elgin, Ill.—Justice of the Peace A. J. Strickman ordered Mrs. Beatrice Dorsey, successful candidate for Democratic precinct committee-women in the primary election April 14, Henry C. Beuchat, a bartender, and Timothy Conners, unemployed, held to the Kane county grand jury on vote fraud conspiracy charges.

The state charged that the men voted for Mrs. Dorsey although not residents of the precinct where she lived. She defeated John A. Logan in the election.

Upholsterer, Admitted Rape-Murderer of New York Woman, Loses Bravado in Jail Cell

New York, April 22.—(AP)—John Florenza, 24, taciturn upholsterer's helper, was arraigned in Magistrate's court today on an affidavit charging he attacked and garrotted Mrs. Nancy Evans Titterton in her Beekman Place apartment April 10.

Earlier, in police line-up he had readily admitted the crime the details of which he confessed yesterday to Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine and District Attorney William C. Dodge.

The hearing on the affidavit was postponed until Tuesday at the request of Assistant District Attorney William O'Rourke, who said he expected an indictment would have been returned by that time.

The crowded Homestead court was thrown into a turmoil during the arraignment when Florenza's mother, Mrs. Theresa Cupani, collapsed in a rear seat and was removed.

EIGHT ESCAPED FROM JAIL WARD EARLY LAST EVE

One of Fugitives Captured Later by Dixon Policemen

A Dixon state hospital patient, who gave his name as Harry Harrison, one of eight who escaped from the institution about 7:30 P. M. Tuesday, was apprehended a short time later by Patrolmen Fischer and Seagren at Graham street, west of Gordon's garage.

Police authorities here today were still searching for the seven still at large. Harrison was found stark naked and suffering from exposure. He was taken back to ward A-7 at the state hospital at once.

Two Autos Stolen

Two Dixon citizens reported their automobiles stolen about the time of the jail break at the hospital. Adam Fazzl, state Route Two road, complained that his automobile, only three weeks old, was stolen from his garage early last night. Dr. John V. Shellman's new machine he had just purchased Tuesday, was stolen from Mrs. J. M. Batchelder's driveway last night and found later on East Third street. Police Chief Van Bibber expressed the opinion today the patients might have temporarily used it.

The patients who broke jail at the state hospital, had been sentenced in Chicago juvenile courts to the institution as delinquents. They escaped while two of their attendants were accompanying other inmates to the amusement hall to which the eight had been denied admittance for violation of rules. Another attendant was with the patients in a rest room and the fourth was writing reports.

The eight youths had apparently removed bolts to the door before breaking it down and escaping. Twenty-five hospital guards aided by deputy sheriffs and reserve Dixon policemen summoned by Chief J. D. Van Bibber joined in the search and were still hunting clues today.

Dog Stood Guard Over Dead Master

Kewanee, Ill., April 22.—(AP)—A faithful dog kept several hogs at bay as he stood guard over the body of his master, Sherman Mangusson, 50, a farmer of near Cambridge, who was found dead under a plow share late yesterday by Melvin Samuelson, a tenant farmer. Mangusson apparently was run over by his tractor while plowing.

Threat to G. O. P.

Chicago, April 22.—(AP)—The high birth rate in the "solid south" was offered today by Prof. Paul H. Douglas of the University of Chicago as something for the Republicans to worry about.

In an address yesterday before the Illinois Birth Control League, Douglas declared the south, with one-fourth of the population of the United States, had one half of the nation's school children.

"In due course of time this expanding population is going to overflow into the west and middle west and we will have a spilling over of southern ideals throughout the country," he said.

"Those of you who are adherents of the G. O. P. will have to meet this."

Parents of Freddie Bartholomew Agreed

Los Angeles, April 22.—(AP)—Freddie Bartholomew's mother and father were aligned on the same side today as the contest over the child actor's custody approached another curtain call in court.

There was no indication Freddie himself would appear.

A hearing on Mrs. Lillian Bartholomew's petition to break the guardianship awarded to her sister-in-law, Miss Mylicent Bartholomew, was postponed from yesterday until today after attorneys for the boy's father filed a suit similar to the mother's.

The petition for the father, Cecil Bartholomew, alleged the aunt's guardianship resulted from "mistake, inadvertence, surprise and excusable neglect."

TERSE ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED IN DIXON DURING DAY

FARMER DEFIES LAW WITH GUNS; TWO MEN KILLED

Louisiana Cattle Man Refuses to Allow Cattle Dipping

Colfax, La., April 22.—(AP)—Walter Johnson, a farmer, eluded posies in the woods today after a swift, one-man rebellion against compulsory cattle dipping had brought death to a sheriff and his deputy.

Sheriff W. L. Nugent, 45, and Deputy Sheriff D. L. Brunson, 46, were slain from ambush near Johnson's home late yesterday while they were aiding federal range riders in rounding up cattle to dip them in a campaign against ticks.

Deputy Sheriff L. Roach charged the killings to Johnson and said he escaped in the woods after the shooting, armed with a shotgun, rifle and pistol.

The shooting recalled violence of the past in Louisiana and other southern states against the state and federal programs to free cattle from ticks.

R. M. Johnson, Grant parish clerk of court, said the Louisiana livestock sanitary board and the United States bureau of animal industry recently secured a preliminary injunction directing Walter Johnson and his father, Sam Johnson, to show cause why they should not be restrained from interfering with officers seeking to dip their cattle.

The order, he said, had been served on the Johnsons by Sheriff Nugent shortly before the slayings.

DIXON AIR MEET CONTEMPLATED DURING SUMMER

Dement Schuler Takes Preliminary Steps for Such Event Here

An air meet, similar to that held here at the dedication of the airport, is being contemplated by the Dixon airport committee this summer, Dement Schuler said this morning.

Although nothing definite has yet been planned he has been negotiating with Clem Sohn, known as the "Human Bat," Arthur Davis, president of the Michigan Airways at East Lansing; and Robert O'Dell, famous stunt flier. These fliers were here in 1930 and thrilled crowds with their aerial performances.

American Legion Post No. 12 will be approached as the logical sponsor of the meet which would be held on a Sunday during the summer months. If these three men can again be booked, a spectacular meet would be sure to result. Davis has won more racing trophies and first place prizes in closed course racing than any other pilot in the world. He also has more flying hours than any other pilot in the show field. He holds the distinction of being the only pilot in the world to change his style of aerial acrobatics every year.

Hair-Raising Stunts

O'Dell lists among his hair-raising stunts, spiral dives with smoke, aerial dog fights patterned after those of the World War, races, and formation flying.

Sohn, "The Human Bat" steps from a plane at an altitude of 10,000 and fully equipped with canvas wings, stretched from the tips of his outstretched arms to his toes, he soars and spirals to the earth like a bird, executing maneuvers similar to those of airplanes. This is an entirely new stunt which thrilled Miami, Fla., crowds last winter.

Sohn carries a parachute for use in case of an emergency.

While at the National Air Races in Cleveland, last summer, Schuler also met Roger Don Rae, champion parachute jumper of the United States, who has won first place in this event the last five years in succession. It is hoped he may be engaged in the event the air meet is held here this summer.

PUNISHMENT OF BLACK SNOOPERS MAY BE DEMAND

New York, April 22.—(AP)—A resolution recommending that all "victims of the illegal acts of the (Black) Senate investigating committee and the Federal communications commission" demand criminal prosecution of those involved and seek civil damages was offered today at the annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

The resolution was offered by the committee on freedom of the press, headed by Col. Robert R. McCormick of the Chicago Tribune. It would commend "those persons who by their appeals to the courts to enforce their rights under the Constitution have helped to curb the illegal conduct of the committees and the commission."

It asserted the Black committee had undertaken a campaign of persecution against individuals, organizations and newspapers which have been critical of the Roosevelt administration in violation of the Constitution.

In a voluminous report the committee discussed the unsolved slaying of two Minnesota newspapermen, Howard Guilford editor of the Saturday Press, and Walter Liggett, Minneapolis editor, and asserted:

"We cannot doubt that the authorities of Minnesota belong to gangland."

Streator Swain is Shot From Ambush as He Leaves Young Lady

Streator, Ill., April 22.—(AP)—Glenn Rogers, 21, was seriously wounded by a shotgun blast fired from ambush early today as he drove home after calling on a girl in Wenona, Ill.

The police took into custody Thomas Flahaven, a farm youth who they said was Rogers' rival for the affections of the girl, Elizabeth Donnelly. The shotgun charge smashed windows and the windshield of Rogers' automobile. He continued on six miles before collapsing. Passing motorists brought him to Streator.

Was Mistaken

Alton, Iowa, April 22.—(AP)—Mrs. Arthur Hammons was busy cooking supper. When she smelled smoke she assumed her husband was burning leaves in the yard. Then she heard falling wood, but guessed he was throwing kindling into the basement. She went on cooking.

Then in dashed Hammons, grabbed her by the hand and dragged her outdoors. "The house," he gasped, "was burning down over your head."

The house was destroyed—also the supper.

Government Puts Price on Heads of Alvin Karpis, Public Enemy No. 1, and Limping Pal Harry Campbell

Washington, April 22.—(AP)—Attorney General Cummings today placed a price on the head of Alvin Karpis, "Public Enemy No. 1," and his limping pal, Harry Campbell.

The attorney general offered $5,000 "for information furnished to a representative of the federal bureau of investigation which results in the apprehension of Alvin Karpis," and $2,500 for similar information leading to the arrest of Campbell.

The rewards were offered in special "wanted" notices carrying pictures of each of the outlaws.

Karpis was named Saturday as one of the plotters in the kidnapping of William Hamm Jr., St. Paul, Minn., brewer, in June, 1933. He previously had been sought for questioning in connection with the $200,000 kidnapping of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker, on January 17, 1934.

Campbell was wanted for the kidnapping of Bremer, under an indictment returned by a grand jury at St. Paul. They are the last remnants of the notorious Barker-Karpis gang.

The attorney general's statement did not list charges on which the two men are sought, however.

Nine Days Punishing Labor Reward-ed With Success

Doctors Take Hypodermics Down to Two Sufferers

Moose River, N. S., April 22.—(AP)—Here is a thumbnail history of the Moose River mine tragedy:

Sunday, April 12—Collapsed shaft imprisons Dr. D. E. Robertson, Alfred Scadding and Herman Magill, all of Toronto, in the abandoned gold mine.

Monday, April 13—One hundred miners begin rescue. Smoke from crag indicates men still alive. Cave-in forces miners from old Archibald shaft.

Tuesday, April 14—Another rock-fall halts rescue through Meagher slope. Special train with equipment comes from Halifax.

Wednesday, April 15—Another rock collapse forces diggers to seek new passage. Mrs. Robertson and Mrs. Magill arrive from Toronto.

Thursday, April 16—Diamond drilling started to make food and communication line to mine tomb. Blasting begun.

Friday, April 17—Ontario rescue workers arrive. Drilling and digging continue.

Saturday, April 18—Drill reaches destination. Trapped men signal they are alive.

Sunday, April 19—Wives talk through drill hole to husbands. Nourishment sent down to mine prison. Rockfall halts digging.

Monday, April 20—Water floods part of pit. At 1:15 A. M., C. S. T. Scadding reports Magill dead. Miners dig desperately. Food for prisoners untouched.

Tuesday, April 21—Entombed survivors suffer from inertia. Robertson believed to have dictated will. Digging continues at punishing speed.

Wednesday, April 22—Crews back through 100-foot barrier of rock and earth and rescue men.

that Dr. Robertson asked for hypodermic injections at once.

At the top of the rescue shaft stood hundreds of persons. Many of them had been on duty day and night, striving as best they could to assist in the work of rescue.

When the report came up from the depths that the two imprisoned men at last had been reached, cheers broke out.

The excitement was so intense that Royal Canadian mounted police cleared a space and warned the crowd to stay back from the mine head.

Stretchers Taken Down
Stretchers, prepared by the ambulance unit on duty during the last five days, were taken down the shaft to assist in bringing the men up.

There still was danger down below, for the rescue crews had pushed forward so fast that little time had been wasted in stirring up the crumbling walls properly.

The announcement of the rescuers' apparent success was made by an excited miner who came to the top of the rescue shaft and shouted:

"We've got through!"

For anxious moments afterward, there was no further news from the workings, but it was surmised that the miners comparatively unobstructed gallery leading to the trapped men.

Medicine Taken Down
Dr. Davis went down the rescue shaft carrying a hypodermic needle and other medical supplies.

It was not known on the surface how long it would take to get the two living men and the body of their dead companion up into the open air, but officials said they thought it would take at least an hour.

The way which lay before them was a long, twisting, narrow, low tunnel, through which it was difficult to carry anything.

The special stretcher which had been devised for the rescue had rope supports to permit them to bend around the tortuous passageway.

Fear Landslide
Miners said they feared any jabs against the sides of the tunnel might cause a landslide.

At 1:25 P. M. local time, (11:25 A. M. Central Standard time), the workers below began sending part of their equipment to the surface up the mine shaft, indicating that their work was almost completed and that the men would soon be released.

The hundreds of rescue workers and spectators on the surface, 141-feet above the spot where the three were caught by a rock slide Easter Sunday night were electrified.

fied by the welcome news from underground.

Magill, they knew, was dead of exposure, and nothing had been heard from Scadding since last night, but they believed Robertson and Scadding had been kept alive by the skill of the physician who has remained cheerful throughout the fet, black, tiresome days and nights which have elapsed since the men were buried alive.

Ordered to Stay Down
Harold Gordon of Stellarton, N. S., in charge of underground operations, gave permission at once to Joe Simpson, daring leader of the Draegerman crew, to return to the face of the rescue passage which has been thrust underground by nearly exhausted men in record-breaking time.

Thus it was believed that the Draegermen, those highly-trained miners who are entrusted with rescue work in Nova Scotia, would have the honor of being the first to greet Dr. Robertson and Scadding.

Throughout the days and nights of battle against rock and dirt, the Draegermen and hundreds of expert miners and volunteers have contended to see who should be the first to penetrate to the living tomb.

Gordon ordered his Draegermen to stay down at the bottom of the shaft until they brought the entrapped men out.

The men with Simpson were Geo. Morrell of Stellarton and H. Hirschfeld of Goldenville, the same pair that helped him when the penetration was made into the old Reynolds shaft, down which they were working, when it was first opened early Monday morning.

New U.S. Army Tank Sets Speed Records
Rock Island, Ill., April 22.—(AP)—The new high speed U. S. army tank manufactured at the Rock Island arsenal returned to Rock Island from Dallas, Tex., after making more mileage in less time than ever made before.

Although records were broken the tank was not making a run for time records.

The total distance covered was 1,075 miles and the traveling time just a few minutes over 32 hours. The longest day's run was 342 miles in 10 hours, which broke the record for the best day's run made in 1934 by the tank that was sent from Rock Island arsenal to Washington and which covered 325 miles in 11 hours.

Earl Trimble, arsenal expert, drove the tank the entire distance from Dallas to the arsenal. He said that at no time was the tank extended to its top speed.

After a certain speed is attained by an airplane in a power dive, the propeller acts as a brake.

WHITE CARNATION

By Joseph Fort Newton

"LOOK at this picture," a reader asks, "and see how glib and cruel our criticisms of people can be, when we do not know what motives lie behind their acts. Maybe you will pass it along."

"A man passed me in the aisle of a large department store, wearing a white carnation in the lapel of his overcoat. Two girls and two boys were doing duty with me at the same counter."

"As he passed, I heard their comments. One of the girls smiled broadly and knowingly, and other remarked loudly it was 'unusual,' shrugging her shoulders, adding to her sense of scorn."

"Both of the boys, when they saw the man, declared him, almost in one accord, a 'silly sissy.' After all, how little we know, how little we understand, when we make snippy, belittling remarks."

"It just happens that I know the man, who is a fine gentleman, charitable, courteous, considerate, with a practicing knowledge of the Golden Rule. Being a subordinate in my position at the counter, it was impossible for me to defend him—so I did not say anything."

"Later I learned that the carnation had a tender significance for him on that particular day. It was his birthday, and the flower was worn in memory of a friend, long dead, who always dined with him on his birthday—just a touch of sentiment, rather 'unusual' indeed."

"Truly, 'to live in the hearts of those we leave behind, is not to die.' Of course, those young people would have honored him for his act if they had known its meaning—but that is just my point."

Ah, yes, good reader, and there is the rub. How often we, too, have misjudged people in some such way, not knowing—not taking the trouble to find out—what sentiment or sorrow lay behind.

D. A. R. Told Danger Confronts Country

Washington, April 22—(AP)—The D. A. R. heard from its national defense chairman today that "masquerading" Communists have succeeded in getting elected to congress and are "boring from within."

Mrs. Vinton Earl Sisson, in a report prepared for delivery to the 45th Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution, warned that these "Communists" are trying to change the American form of government through amendments to the Constitution.

"Do you know," she asked, "that there are pending between 65 and 70 proposed amendments?" "And there is no monopoly on the part of any one political party either, for one notes about as many so-called Republicans who want changes as there are so-called Democrats. Your chairman uses the word 'so-called' advisedly, for in truth the most voracious of these would-be amenders are neither the one nor the other, but would seem to be Socialists, or Communists, masquerading under the protective cloak of one of the major parties."

"In no other phase of our national life," she said, "has this 'boring from within' process been more apparent than in the congress of the United States."

As-Uh-Can Club Meeting Thursday

The As-Uh-Can club was delightfully entertained on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Emmert. In the absence of the president, the vice president, Mrs. Elcholtz, opened the meeting with all singing the club song. After the minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read, roll call was responded to by nine members with "pet peeves" which were very amusing.

After the usual business meeting the program, "My 42 Years in the White House" by Ike Hoover, was very ably given by Mrs. Carl Spangler, which was greatly enjoyed by all.

During the social hour which followed, the hostess served very delicious refreshments and all soon adjourned to their homes thanking Mrs. Emmert for a most pleasant afternoon.

Meeting of Sunshine Class Thurs.

The Sunshine class of St. Paul's Lutheran church met at the church Thursday evening, April 16.

The picnic supper was greatly enjoyed by the many members present.

The meeting which followed was presided over by the president, Cora Spielman and opened with the singing of several songs. This was followed by the scripture lesson and prayer led by the teacher, Jessie Follett. The secretary and treasurer read their reports. Plans were then discussed for raising money and it was decided to hold a cafeteria luncheon, the date to be decided later. The hostesses were Anna Ankeny, Bessie Schultz, Mary Fisher and Carrie Bremer.

Mr. Hannon Will Address Club Sat.

Fine Entertainment by Artists at Methodist Church Tuesday

One of the most enjoyable and successful entertainments presented in Dixon in a long time was the concert at the Methodist church, sponsored by the Wesleyan Missionary Society of the church last evening at which time the Harcourt Trio, Callie Harcourt Hemb, violin; Arlene Walker, cello; and Mary Fluck Eldridge, piano; assisted by Beulah Casler Edwards, soprano, and Mary Frances Averill, reader, provided the entertainment for the gala evening of music and readings and sketches. A long list of patrons and patronesses was published on the programs.

Much of the credit of the success of the entire affair is conceded Mrs. A. N. Boyd, president of the Wesleyans and to Mrs. Fred E. Ball and their committees. Mrs. Boyd introduced the entertainers for the evening, who gave a delightful program of classical and popular music and readings in a beautiful stage setting. A new rich plush curtain in a soft shade of blue added to the effectiveness of the background and the lovely pink roses and snapdragons and ferns gave the final touch of refined atmosphere.

The Harcourt Trio are musicians of the highest type and their absolute command of their instruments and beautiful interpretation of the composers marked them as far above the ordinary. The soloist has a lovely lyric voice and good enunciation. The reader is most attractive and talented.

The attendance was large, the church being crowded, and the audience was appreciative and expressed their gratification in hearty and sustained applause.

Following the program an informal reception was held in the parlors of the church, at which time more than two hundred people greeted the artists and enjoyed the refreshments served.

The committee in charge is grateful for the success of the evening, the treasury being appreciably enlarged by the receipts of last evening.

The program was as follows:

Molto Allegro Agitato

EDEN

By Helen Welshimer

THE hills that march to Eden grow higher with the years. When one begins the journey. The higher land appears. To be a little distant. Oh, never very far. A mile or maybe two miles. From any place you are.

A S mountains in a clear land seem close when they are not. So Eden is chameleon. And when its fields are sought. It drifts beyond the questing. It lifts a spire to say: "What makes you think you'll enter My premises today?"

BUT Eden is surprising. Oh, suddenly, sometimes. Its clean fields, its green fields. Its sweet, unbroken chimneys. Come hastily before us—A miracle is wrought. Heaven is a strange land. Not found when it is sought.

Silver Anniversary For Chap. AC., Ill. P.E.O. Monday Eve

One of the gala events in local P. E. O. history occurred on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. A. A. Rowland when the silver anniversary dinner was given. Chapter AC, having been founded April 22nd, 1911. An interesting clipping from the Dixon Telegraph of a shortly later date, telling of the organization, its purpose and its membership, was read by one of the charter members.

The elaborate four course dinner was served from four tables, covers being laid for thirty-two members. Handsome centerpieces of snapdragons, tulips, and marguerites in silver bowls, and silver tapers in silver candlesticks, graced the tables and souvenir programs with silver paper covers, added to the festive decorations at each place.

The president, Mrs. Raymond Worsley, gave a few words of greeting, and called on the toastmistress, Mrs. A. F. Moore, to take charge of the program. The following excellent toasts were given, carrying out the idea of the P. E. O. family:—

"Our Betrothal Vows," by Mrs. George Graves of Ames, Ia., who spoke for the charter members; "The Head of the House," by Mrs. W. H. Coppins, who represented the past presidents group; "The Foster Child," by Mrs. John Charters of Ashton, representing the members coming from other chapters, and "The Infants," by Mrs. Wilbur Hutchinson, who gave the response for the newer members.

Other charter members present spoke briefly, recalling early days and early friendships, and letters of greetings, and letters of greeting were read from Mrs. Ethel Leland Van Spanckeren of Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. Jessie Waters Reid of Kimball, Neb., Pauline Ethel Tubbs of Alexis, Ill., who was state organizer in 1911, Mrs. Judd and daughter of Evansville, Ind., Mrs. Mary P. Putnam of Ashland, Ohio, and Mrs. Clyde Ross of Springfield, Ill., and a telegram from Mrs. Alfred Leland of Rockford. Each one present felt that the vows and associations of chapter life in the P. E. O. Sisterhood meant more to her after observing this anniversary and honoring the early initiates, and many were the expressions of appreciation to Mrs. Rowland for lending her home for the delightful affair.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Mother's Surprise Box

Aids Childish Travelers—Long motor trips are trying on young children. They become restless and weary. Instead of nagging them into a possible quietude you can entertain them with little effort, by a "surprise box."

Before leaving home pack a small container with cheap little toys, cookies, and other things dear to childish hearts. Call it the hidden box, wrap the gifts in paper, and at intervals treat the children to a surprise.

When making baking powder biscuits, prick them on top with a fork before putting them in the oven. They will turn out light and fluffy and delightful.

To add zest to the strawberries in the short-cake, add a dash of lemon to the crushed fruit. It gives a singularly pleasing flavor.

Food that is salted too heavily frequently may be rescued. Add a whole raw potato to your overly salty dish and the potato will absorb the surplus seasoning.

For the children's supper, chop up a few walnuts and mix with the prunes, calling it the prune and walnut dessert. They probably will

She was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Ryan, who was attired in a gown of lilac Canton crepe with accessories harmonizing. The groom was attended by Francis Ryan, brother of the bride.

(Peoria Journal)

Postmaster General Farley declares that former President Hoover and Governor Landon of Kansas are "copycats" and that they are taking over the democratic farm platform almost without change.

After summarizing proposals advanced by Hoover and Landon for the aid of the farmer, Farley asserts that they are virtually "the principles upon which Mr. Roosevelt conducted his campaign in 1932."

Although we are not aware that either Mr. Hoover or Governor Landon has a definite farm platform at the present, it would not be a bad thing if they appropriated the democratic farm plank of 1932.

As anyone who has studied the democratic platform of 1932 knows that it is practically new and unused. The principles upon which Governor Roosevelt conducted his campaign in 1932 are not those of the New Deal or of President Roosevelt in 1936.

The republican party might take over the entire democratic platform of 1932 without copying any of the ideals or programs now sponsored by the New Deal party.

A SLAM AT ILLINOIS
(Galesburg Register-Mail)

Now that the primary is over Senator Borah should be asked to produce the proof of his bold statement that great sums of money were being poured into Illinois by monopolies to defeat him. He claimed to have it. The mere fact that he had opposition is not sufficient. He must know names and amounts and the beneficiaries. The suspicion naturally would attach to the delegates elected to the national convention. The senator should name the ones, if any, who are being seduced by the slush funds that he mentioned.

Give us a bill of particulars instead of an indiscriminate wholesale charge. The senator has put Illinois under suspicion, and the state has a right to know the facts. If he has not got them, there should be a demand for retraction. "Pouring money into Illinois!" That is his charge.

For what purpose? His latest is that it is to defeat him in the national convention. Is the purpose of that to place under suspicion everyone that votes for somebody else than him? Supposing the majority of the Illinois delegation prefers some one else! Is that to be construed as evidence that they are boodlers and grafters who are recipients of a monopolistic corruption fund? Why let Illinois rest under such a charge?

NEGLECTFUL PARENTS PRODUCE CRIMINALS

The oldest arrow in the quiver of the experienced criminal lawyer is the picture of a gray-haired mother weeping over the waywardness of her unfortunate son.

Any reporter who has covered very many criminal court trials can tell you all about it. The thug who is being tried will sit at the trial table, doing his level best to wear an innocent, more-sinned-against-than-sinners look; and his advocate, with quivering voice, will tell the jury about the mother of "this poor boy," and will beg them to send sonny back to her so that her pure mother-love may redeem and ennoble him.

It is all very pretty and inspiring, of course. But it is about time that someone spoke up and inquired why mother isn't right there in the dock along with sonny boy, facing trial on her own account.

J. Edgar Hoover, renowned head of the G-Men, told the New York Round Table Forum the other day that an amazing number of the crimes charged to our underworld these days should really be charged to the underworldlings' parents.

Some 20 per cent of all our crime, said Mr. Hoover, is committed by lads who are not yet old enough to vote. Many of these youngsters are still of high school age. Practically all of them come from homes where papa and mama just couldn't be bothered to enforce discipline, set up high moral standards and, in general see to it that Junior set his feet in the way that he should go.

Worse yet, continued Mr. Hoover, when one of these wayward boys does get into a jam with the law, his parents come down to court with only one thought in mind—to get him out of trouble. That he may need a swift rap over the knuckles to straighten him out never seems to enter their heads.

They weep over him and cuddle up to him and save him, if they can, from paying the penalty for his misdeeds; and, by the same token, they leave him feeling that it is all right if he goes out and steals another car or sticks up another filling station, as long as the law doesn't catch him.

The attack on crime, then, Mr. Hoover concludes, must begin with "a reconstruction of the American viewpoint toward better parental discipline and a greater sense of law abidance beginning in the home."

This is so undeniably true as to be self-evident. Yet it is the one step we usually overlook when we talk about wiping out the underworld.

The police courts, jails, penitentiaries, and death chambers of our land tell an unspeakably tragic story; and it is a story which, in the vast majority of cases, begins back in some American home in which the father and the mother made a terrible mess of their most important job.

Back of almost every criminal stands a parent who failed.

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

The man who sat outside the tent, replied to Copy, "I have spent my life playing music. It spreads good cheer all around."

"All folks call me the music man, and I play tunes as best I can. Just listen to my fine guitar. It has a lovely sound."

The big guitar went "plink, plink, plink," and Copy said, "I really think that that is very pretty. Will you stay here for a while?"

"When daytime comes, I'll wake the bunch. They'll like it, too. I have a hunch." "I'll gladly wait till daybreak," said the old man, with a smile.

"Now, in the meantime, I will play you back to sleep."

Right here I'll stay. It wasn't very long till Copy was in slumberland.

Then morning came and Copy cried, "Hey, everyone, rush right outside. There is a real treat waiting and I know you'll think it's grand."

All of the Tinies soon agreed. The old man, with unusual speed, played several very pretty songs, and then jumped to his feet.

"I've played enough for you today," he cried. "I must be on my way." "Oh, thank you," Goldy shouted, "We've enjoyed the little treat."

The kind prospector then said, "I will put an apron on and try my luck at making pancakes. Who will build a fire for me?"

Brave Scouty answered, "Gee, I will. Pancakes for breakfast. What a thrill!" Then both he and the old man were as busy as could be.

The little blaze soon blazed up high and Dotty shouted, "Me, oh my! Just watch him mix the batter. He once was a cook, I'll bet."

The next thing that the Tinies knew, into the air the pancakes flew. Wee Duncy watch them flop, and said, "I hope my share I get." (Copyright 1936 NEA Service, Inc.)

DAILY HEALTH

VITAMIN D. EXCESS: II

The common saying, "too much of a good thing," can be justly applied to the injudicious use of vitamin D.

It is only comparatively recently that we have learned to appreciate the great value of this vitamin in the prevention of rickets. Rickets, by the way, and contrary to the common impression, is not exclusively a disease of the bones. It is rather a systemic disease affecting the entire constitution, though especially manifest in the changes which the bones undergo.

Heretofore vitamin D was available mainly in cod-liver oil. Recently, however, other fish oils, richer in vitamin D and also in vitamin A, have been placed upon the market, and vitamin D has been artificially engendered in a variety of foods, such as milk, bread and cereals.

We have therefore progressed from a state where we were menaced by the want of, to one where we are threatened by the excess of, vitamin D.

The risk of an excess of vitamin D is real enough to warrant notice. There is abundant evidence that certain infants may react badly even to safe doses of vitamin D.

Premature, feeble infants and those that have no rickets fall in this class.

The symptoms of toxicity produced by an excess of vitamin D may be summarized as follows: There is failure of general health without obvious cause. There is muscular flabbiness, with a loss of appetite. There may be vomiting with slight diarrhea, followed by constipation. The infant may be fretful and apathetic. There is neither pain nor fever. Weight is likely to be stationary for some time, followed by a decline.

The moral is to use whatever form of vitamin D is prescribed by the physician, according to his instructions. If the child reacts with a digestive disturbance, call the doctor's attention to it. Don't overdose the child with vitamin D.

Future Rail Kings Take Shape in Diesel Plant

In a huge La Grange, Ill., plant, first in the world devoted exclusively to the building of Diesel railroad engines, a $3,500,000 program is under way which menaces the reign of the puffing Iron Horse. Nearing completion in the assembly room, shown at top, of the Electro-Motive Corporation, General Motors' subsidiary, are sleek electric passenger locomotives that soon will be pulling high-speed trains across the continent. Power units already have been installed on skeletons of electric switch engines, shown on assembly line at top left, which shortly will replace the old steam type. In the scene at left, below, a Diesel power unit is being lowered into a streamlined locomotive by one of the plant's huge cranes, strongest of which has a capacity of 200 tons. Workmen apply finishing touches to a streamlined engine, in the photo at right below.

LEIBER MADE WILSON MORE RESPECTFUL

Davis Passed Ott Intentionally; Got Surprise

By Andy Clarke

Associated Press Sports Writer.

Hank Leiber, cleanup man of the Giants, chuckled today in the satisfaction that Jimmy Wilson, pilot of the Phils, had paid for his lack of respect.

Hank was the central figure in a Polo Grounds drama that featured a day on which cold, rain and darkness conspired to cause postponement of four major league games and half two others before completion.

It was the ninth inning, the score was tied and the winning run was on second base. Curt Davis was on the mound for the Phils and Mel Ott was advancing to the plate for the Giants when Wilson, calling "Wait a minute," ran out to the pitcher's box for a conference.

He glanced at Ott and then at Leiber, the latter wearing a couple bats in the background. Then he made his decision.

"Pass Ott and pitch to Leiber," Leiber began to swing those bats viciously as Davis intentionally passed Ott and the import of the insult deepened.

Hank Gets Clean Single. Hank stepped to the plate. The first ball was a little low but he leaped on the second for a clean single to centerfield. Jimmy Ruppel scampered around third to home and Hank, crossing first base, looked to the Phils dugout to see Wilson dragging into its depths. It was complete vindication. The final score was 7-6.

Lefty Grove held the Washington Senators to three scattered hits for his second win of the season as the Red Sox defeated the Yanks 8-1 in a game that was halted in the seventh inning. The rainy southpaw deserved a shut-out, Washington's second inning run being the result of Eric McNair's error on Jake Powell's grounder. The game was called on account of darkness and rain.

The Brooklyn Dodgers-Boston game was called in the 12th inning because of darkness with the score tied at 6-6. Dick Siebert was the man who failed for the Dodgers. With the bases loaded in the last half of the 12th, Siebert stepped to the plate and hit into a double play.

The Athletics, showing surprising power in their last two starts, gave the Yankees a double before going down 7-6. Three Yankee pitchers saw duty. Johnny Brookes was chased after bringing his team into the ninth with a five run lead. Ted Dickey belted his third homer of the season with two on in the third.

DIXON CAGERS GET LETTERS AT ASSEMBLY

Trophies Presented Also; Track Meet Date Chanced

At a Dixon high school general assembly this morning basketball letters were awarded to seven heavyweight players and seven lightweight cagers of the 1935-36 N. C. I. conference and regional championship quints. The N. C. I. trophy, the regional trophy, and the sectional tourney runner-up statuette were formally presented to the school also.

Robert Krug was appointed honorary captain of the 1935-36 heavyweight quint. Those receiving letters were heavyweights Art Klein, Dick Durkes, Bob Evans, Marvin Fouck, Louis Schumm, and L. Miller. Lightweight letters were given to Gerald Ankney, Bob Coakley, Arnold Salzman, Don Miller, Joy Ellis, Murphy, Bush, Managers Billy McGinnis and Bud Nichols and Cheer Leaders Brown, McMillon, Austin and Fordham also won letters.

Athletic Director A. C. Bowers said today the track meet scheduled April 30 has been changed to Friday, May 1, at Princeton. It will be a triangular meet between Dixon, DePue and Princeton on the Tiger field.

Handicap Bowling Tournament Starts

Purple and White Track Team Ready To Run Rock Falls

Rock Falls Green and Black track squad tangles with Dixon high school's Purple and White under team at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, the races being the first track and field competition for both teams of the 1935 season.

Coch A. C. Bowers supported by thirteen lettermen has moulded a team that intends to repeat the capturing of the N. C. I. conference crown having won it four years in a row. Rock Falls is not a conference opponent but always rates high in the Rock River Valley conference and is expected to give the locals a real test.

Continued cool weather will hamper any record-breaking attempts but a change for the warmer before tomorrow afternoon will assure a series of events that may mark new records in several departments as the track is fast and the boys in excellent condition for the meet.

Here and There In Sports World

By Eddie Brietz

Associated Press Sports Writer.

New York, April 22.—(AP)—Mickey Cochrane must have had his tongue in his cheek when he said it would take warm weather to get Schoolboy Rowe started.

Rowe pitched 18 scoreless innings until the Browns nicked him. Max Schmeling got the biggest newspaper reception since Babe Ruth returned from his tour of the Orient. All the boxing writers went down the bay, plus half a dozen columnists, a dozen photographers and newsmen.

Could that good Munich beer the Bremen serves have anything to do with it?

The summer boxing program at Ebbetts Field calls for Primo Carnera to go against the Negro, Leroy Haynes, with the winner meeting Jack Sharkey and the survivor fighting Max Baer.

Interesting—if it goes through. Coast experts are advising Ben Eastman, former Stanford star, to stick to the 800-meter event in his drive for a place on the Olympic team.

Ray Wolf, Texas Christian assistant coach, didn't take that North Carolina job, but a salary difference of $500.

Rice finally has landed Ernest Linn, sharp shooting passer and hard running back from Mexico (Tex) high. The kid could have had his pick of more than a dozen colleges.

The gold-plated Boston Red Sox have caught the fancy of the entire world, it seems. Last week a well wisher wrote from Czechoslovakia.

New comes a note from a priest in Algiers, North Africa. He asks Eddie Collins to present a season's pass to one of the priest's friends in Boston so said friends may send a first hand account of the doings of the Sox.

Collins was glad to comply. Not only is Mike Jacobs the champion tulip grower of New Jersey, but he can do things with a frying pan, especially when sausages are in it.

South Charleston, O., is said to be the smallest town in the United States operating under a city manager.

HOLES-IN-ONE TAKEN BY 127 THIS SEASON

Percentage Freak Shots Growing Higher Daily

New York, April 22.—(AP)—

Strange tales of fairway adventure, unbelievable but true, filtered in today as membership in the Associated Press Hole-In-One soared to 127.

Nelson Maynard, playing in a foursome at Baltusrol golf club, Short Hills, N. J., scene of the 1936 National open, bet $1,100 that if anyone made an ace that day he would be the man. He forgot about the wager until he scored an ace on the 137-yard fourth.

Mrs. Carle Robbins of Fort Smith, Arkansas state women's champion, struck out for a game of golf with the mercury only two above zero. She was regarded when her No. 6 iron shot produced an ace on the 127-yard third hole of the Rolling Knolls country club.

Alex "Nipper" Campbell, one of the grandest of old time pros still playing golf, made a shot from the ninth hole a 160 yarder, of the Springfield, Ohio, Country club course. As he reached the top of his follow through, the veteran Scot turned to his partners and said: "Gentlemen, that's going in." And it did.

Bags 160-Yard Ace. A prominent jockey, Mely Calvert, bagged a 160-yard ace on the fifth hole of the Willow Springs course at San Antonio to run Texas' hole-in-one total to the surprising total of 33, or better than a quarter of the nation's entire supply.

And a golfer named Dick Deer from Salt Lake hit a new hilarity high by scoring an ace on the Bonnevill course near there and then going on to take a snappy 53 for nine holes.

As the Texas sharpshooters turned in six more shots during the week to increase their top-heavy margin eight more states reported prize shots to run the number of states reporting to 34. The new states on the membership rolls were Rhode Island, New York, Arkansas, Utah, Mississippi, Wisconsin, Georgia and Indiana. Georgia reported seven while Indiana and New York came up with three each. Tennessee and California still were tied at second place with 12 aces each.

MAXIE HUNTING TRAINING CAMP AFTER ARRIVAL

More Concerned Over Forgetting Clubs Than Meeting Louis

New York, April 22.—(AP)—

More concerned about his forgotten golf clubs than the terrors of Joe Louis' fists, Max Schmeling, the former heavyweight champion, today began the search for a training camp in which to prepare for his 15-round fight with the Detroit Bomber at the Yankee Stadium in June.

Schmeling, calmly confident of his ability to beat Louis, arrived yesterday bawling the fact he had left his golf clubs in Germany. He plans to start his preparations at French Lick, Ind., with golf as his main diet.

This oversight worried Max even more than the fact that he and his trainer, Max Machon, didn't even have taxi fare to their hotel when they arrived. They were allowed to take only ten marks apiece—about $4—out of Germany.

Schmeling, weighing 192 pounds, about four pounds above his fighting weight, announced he was in fine condition and that he expected to beat Louis although he would not predict a knockout.

"It is now or never for me," he explained. "I know I will never get another chance in an important bout here unless I can beat your Joe Louis. That's what I intend to do."

"I saw pictures of his fight with Max Baer and I told myself 'there is my man.' Then I came over here and saw him beat Paulino. And again I told myself 'there is my man.'"

First Badminton Tournament Will Be Held Weekend

Chicago, April 22.—(AP)—

The first national open badminton tournament, to be held at the Chicago Arena Saturday and Sunday, has drawn 259 entries. It was announced today by the Midwest Badminton Association, including 12 state champions.

FINE LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE HERE

Large Audience Heard
Pasadena Scientist
Last Evening

A large audience listened attentively to an inspirational and educational lecture on "Christian Science; a Message of Light and Healing" by Charles V. Winn, C. B. S. of Pasadena, Calif. last evening at the Masonic Temple. The speaker, talking to his hearers conversationally said in part:

Mankind is ever marching forward and onward. Humanity is continually striving to overcome its boundaries and limitations. It makes ceaseless efforts to attain a greater degree of progress and to gain a fuller light on its varied problems. On page 233 of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, we find this most helpful truth: "Progress is the law of God." To stand still is impossible. We are ever marching toward the light of Truth. Christian Science not only declares this eternal fact but shows us clearly why it cannot be otherwise. It teaches us exact Science, an understanding of which fulfills every righteous hope, brings to fruition every honest desire, crowns every true purpose with success.

Progress, Enlightenment

In the Bible we read, "The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light; they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined." All progress has been made through more light, that is, through an increased or fuller understanding of that which is true and a greater freedom from the false and wrong. The onward urge must always be the outcome of a clearer perception of that which is true and a keener discernment of the falsity of the wrong. The light of truth never changes divine facts; it reveals them to our uplifted gaze.

God Is Truth

In the Christian Science textbook (p. 312) we read this definition of Deity: "God is Truth." We also learn in the Scriptures that God is the only creator, that He is the author and source of all that is real and actual. The Apostle John thus clearly states this fact: "All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made." Since God is infinite Truth and the only creator, all that He creates is truthful, truth-like, and expresses divine Truth. That which proceeds from Truth must express the divine character of Truth; it must abide in the light of Truth. As we understand God aright the light of Truth illumines our thinking; truthful concepts fill our consciousness; truthful ideas are our constant companions. As the mist disappears before the light of the sun, so the shadows of untruthful concepts must dissolve under the rays of Truth. A wise man of old prayed for an understanding heart. He well knew that as he understood that which is true he would judge righteously and well. True knowledge leads to truthful thinking and truthful acting. A perception of the Science of Truth must lead in the paths of Truth; it leads in no other direction. We read in Proverbs, "Understanding is a wellspring of life unto him that hath it." The light of Truth reveals that which God has created; it destroys the belief in any other creation.

How Understanding is Gained
Since understanding is all-important, the questions naturally arise: How is this understanding to be gained? How is this perception to be acquired? These are fair questions and Christian Science readily answers them. In the Christian Science textbook (p. 272) we are told how truth is gained and becomes operative in our lives. "The spiritual sense of truth must be gained before Truth can be understood. This sense is assimilated only as we are honest, unselfish, loving, and meek." What an array of noble qualities! The windowpane of that mentality which has been cleansed with such heavenly virtues must really admit the rays of truth. The healing light of the "Sun of righteousness" finds no barriers there. Most of us may think we have been on familiar terms with these qualities, honesty, unselfishness, love, and meekness, but Christian Science enhances them, exalting them in our thinking. The light of Truth shows us how they may be more easily attained and more readily retained. God is the one infinite good, the creator of that which is good, the basis of all good, the source of all good, the promoter of all good. Since He is infinite good and divine Truth, then good is all that is true, and Truth, alone, is good. Good is never untruthful, and Truth is never unlike good. If anything is good it is true; and if it is true, it is good. All things were made by Him, Truth, and Truth could not and would not make anything untruthful or lacking in truth. Truth must express itself truthfully in all that it does. Good is Truth, and Truth is good, and nothing can change this eternal fact. We are thinking honestly, truthfully, when we are thinking along this line, or in accordance with divine facts. As we are thinking in accordance with truth and good, the light of Truth comes in the darkness of false belief goes out. Many have had the experience of striving unsuccessfully to solve a problem, when suddenly the solution would appear. What happened? The true facts became apparent; the darkness of ignorance and misconception were dispelled. Our thinking had been aligned with that which was right; we had been thinking honestly and correctly, thus bringing about a correct solution.

Hopes Turned to Grief by Mate's Death in Mine

Days of agonizing waiting for the rescue of her husband, Herman B. Magill, mine owner trapped 141 feet below the surface in a gold mine near Moose River, Nova Scotia, ended tragically for Mrs. Magill when the two men imprisoned with her husband in the cavernous shaft sent up word through a pipe line that her husband had died. Mrs. Magill is seen talking with one of the rescue workers near the mine shaft.

God's Law Promotes Good

Since God is infinite Truth, His law is a law of Truth. His law can only bring to pass that which is truthful and right. God's law could not bring to pass anything untruthful or unrighteous. The power of Truth and good could not operate through any law of unrighteousness. A suppositional law of evil is lawless. It is less than law, and only a belief, without foundation or support. God's law brings the light of Truth; it dispels the darkness of error. God's law promotes health, not discord; harmony, not disease; abundance, not lack. It brings to pass good and righteousness, but never evil or wrong. "The light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not." Darkness and evil cannot comprehend the light of Truth and good; neither can they interfere with the operation of the law of good. As we think honestly and truthfully about God's law, its unflinching supremacy and wholly beneficent nature, the light of Truth annuls and reverses the supposed law of ignorance and evil, and healing inevitably flows. A lady who had lost the sight of one eye by reason of the work in which she had been engaged—her work having been a perfectly normal and right work—became interested in Christian Science, and through God's law, which brings light and healing, her sight was restored. It was only right for her to enjoy what God's law had divinely provided for her. "That was the true light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world."

Evil Is Never True

By thinking honestly, in accordance with divine Truth and eternal facts, we not only enjoy good in the present, but we see clearly that good is all that ever has been. Since Truth, God, is the only origin, the only truthful position is the scientific fact that evil never was in the realm of reality. God is infinite good and unchanging Truth, and has never known anything about His creation but that which is true and good. All things were made by Him, and what He did not make, not only is not true now, but never has been true. As one version of the Bible puts it, "The light shineth in darkness; and the darkness never overpowered it." Light was never transmitted into darkness; immutable truth never became mutable error. How easy it is to gain a scientific sense of forgiveness when we understand this vital fact. All slights, past hurts, old wounds are quickly healed when we see that "from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God."

True Forgiveness

We learn in Christian Science that evil is forgiven, in the true sense, as it is destroyed. We can never destroy an entity or an actuality, but we see the unreality of that which God has not made, and then it is forgiven, annihilated. God is everywhere, and man abides in God's presence. Man has never been separated from God, and that which is wrong has never come into God's presence. Christian Science enables us to rejoice in ever-present good, and as we are conscious of good's ever-presence the shadows of the past are erased by God's law of light and healing. Shadows are no part of the landscape, and evil has never been any part of God's creation. We stand on holy ground when we see what Love hath done and unsee that which has never entered into the creation of God. We see that "the darkness is past, and the true light now shineth." Evil, having no history, has never been recorded on the eternal tablets of Truth. A certain man, having been greatly wronged and deprived of what was lawfully his, used all legitimate human means to regain what was rightfully his, but to no avail. Then, after realizing the supremacy of God's law, he dismissed the matter from his thought and waited patiently on God. After some time, amicable relations were restored, all misunderstanding was overcome, and that which was rightfully his was reclaimed. When we refuse to dwell on the evil and wrong, either past or present, God's law becomes operative in our experience, and His healing truth is manifested in error's destruction. As we rejoice in ever-present good, we cease to mourn over a shadowy and unreal past. We stand in God's light; darkness is no longer overshadowing us.

CHAPTER I

LINDA BOURNE hurried home through the April twilight of that day that was to prove so fateful. A few weeks more, she thought, and the gray bushes would burst into yellow bloom. April was a nice month, but May would be nicer. That was all right; it was exciting to think of what was ahead. In May the lilacs would blossom, opening their hearts to fill the air with heady perfume. And sometimes the birds sang at night. The moon would be round as a silver dollar on the twentieth . . .

"Wilda's party" (thus Linda's thoughts flew) "is on the twentieth. I will sit on the terrace with Dix and feel the broadcloth of his sleeve beneath my hands that get hot and cold when I think of him. Oh, Dix . . . my lamb with tawny hair and fierce eyebrows that grow so straight across your brow. You haven't an aristocratic nose at all, and your mouth is sensual, but you are an aristocrat and you aren't sensual. You're divine . . ."

The dance would be her seventeenth date with Dix. Seventeen since the night of the Glee Club concert. The concert at Adelphi Hall, and the tawny-headed boy booming Neapolitan love songs lustily in his sweet, untrained voice. And later, the waiter coming to tell her that "her grandmother" wished her to take supper in the alcove.

And in the alcove there was Dix. The tawny-headed singer.

"Hello, Red-dress," he said. "I didn't know any other way to get you away from that mob and I wanted to know you. I'm Dix—Dixon Cobb Carter. Will you have some chicken salad?"

That was the way it began. Linda had some definite ideas about how she hoped it would end. Where she didn't care. The farthest corner of the earth in a canvas tent would be all right with her, so long as it was at the end of a life spent with him.

Linda, on her way home from her errand at the Newtown Blade office, turned into her own street—and her dreaming came to an end abruptly. It was the appearance of her own home that startled her. The big house was ablaze with lights; the drive was filled with cars, yet only silence came from the house, and there were strangers standing on the wide porch.

AFTERWARDS she couldn't remember who took her aside, telling her to be brave, to remember that her father could not have been in his right mind and—finally—that he was dead by his own hand.

And when she had escaped to her own room, she stared at her self in the mirror, shamed that she could not cry, yet realizing that she could not be untrue to herself. Linda Bourne did not love her father. She had tried to all those years when the mother she faintly remembered had gone away with another man, leaving the tiny Linda alone in the big house with Calvin Bourne.

Linda thought of Dix . . . and when she thought of him that quick thrill stabbed her heart. Surely Dix would come soon.

Linda thought of her mother then, and what manner of girl she must have been. She tried to picture her, here in the room that for so long had been her little world. A loveless world where once Linda had pretended that her dolls loved her and asked her to help them and love them always. No one in all her life had asked for her love.

She had friends. She was popular. She danced well, rode well, played a good game of tennis and golf. She was an "organizer," a committee girl. That was the life she led as leader of the little set that constituted young society in Newtown.

The light went out of the sky and Linda sat in the dark in that house of tragedy, forlorn in the thought that there was no one to think of her with sincere kindness and sorrow. Her world would be shocked, but it lacked tenderness.

One man was thinking of her. . . . Pete Gardiner, alone in the city room of the Newtown Blade, puffing lazily on a battered pipe, contemplated his long legs, draped on an

DO YOU REMEMBER?

One Year Ago Today—Joe Louis knocked out Biff Benton in the first round at Dayton, O.

Five Years Ago Today—Fall Apple won the $13,850 Aberdeen Stakes at Hayre De Grace.

Ten Years Ago Today—The Giants won their sixth game in a row, defeating the Dodgers, 11-4, at Ebbets Field.

Although we apparently can see countless stars, the naked eye is capable of viewing only about five moments of breathless beauty, he thought, remembering the glow of an inner radiance that filled her gray eyes and lit up the features of her heart-shaped face. He remembered the sweetness of her mouth that was too large for prettiness. And he remembered the way her dark hair clung to her small head, escaping in tendrils curled like shadows on her cheeks.

He liked her head, he decided, and the straightness of her back, the fine molding of her bones and the strength in her slender hands as she sat at his typewriter doing the little piece about a Junior League bazaar. She was a thoroughbred, and Pete liked thoroughbreds. He was one himself.

The desk phone rang. Pete reached for it languidly.

"Hello, Corbin" (it was the Blade's police reporter). "Cal Bourne shot himself in his office an hour ago. Tell Barrett I'm on the story, will you?"

Pete reached for his crumpled cigarette package, and thrust it back. Moved by an impulse he didn't stop to analyze, he took the stairs, three at a time. Somebody would have to tell that poor kid her old man had bumped himself off. Gently!

It was Linda, cool, dry-eyed, and white, who opened the door to him. She had forgotten him, but suddenly their meeting that afternoon in the Blade office came back to her.

"I'm afraid you'll have to excuse us, Mr. Gardiner. And I must ask you not to presume on our meeting this afternoon. A statement will be given to the newspapers."

She spoke before Pete had a chance to say anything, and for the second time within an hour she left him. This time he wanted to slap her face.

Some time he would pay her back.

"That poor child!" Mrs. Gardiner said to her son when she read an account of the funeral.

"Don't worry about that 'poor child.' She'll get along," Pete said coldly.

His mother laid aside the newspaper. "Do you know her, Peter?" "Not socially, Mom." Then he told her about meeting Linda at the office the day of the tragedy, how he had gone to break the news to her and the reception she had given him.

"Well, son, she made a natural mistake. How could she have known why you went? Of course, she thought you were just another reporter. I think—for your own sake—you should go and explain it to her."

"Do you?" Pete bit savagely on his pipe. "Maybe I will some warm night when I can do with a bit of cold air."

But, whether he intended to or not, Pete Gardiner went to call on Linda Bourne and found her sobbing, her head pillowed on the new grass.

He gave her his handkerchief and offered his shoulder. She only knew that it was more comfortable than the grass and wiped her eye on his handkerchief.

PARTS ASSIGNED FOR FOLLIES AT FIRST MEETING

Gannon Master of Ceremonies; Mayor Also Appears in Cast

Can you imagine staid business and professional men of Dixon attired as Mae West and other feminine stars, as chorus girls and as charming "ladies of leisure." Neither can we, but "believe it or not" (apologies to Ripley) such will be the case, when approximately 50 of Dixon's leading business and professional men will do makeup and forget the worries of every day life to appear in the "Leap Year Follies" which will be presented at the Dixon Theatre next Tuesday.

The presentation, which will include a cast of 70 local persons, will be sponsored by the Dixon post of the American Legion. The Legion will use funds realized to carry on the many worthwhile service projects which are a part of its annual endeavor.

Parts Assigned

Preparations for the presentation were started auspiciously last night when more than 50 business men assembled at the Legion hall for character part assignments. While many of the major roles were assigned for the all-masculine follies presentation, officials were still picking additional members of the cast today. Homer A. Holt, who is directing the production, would be announced later this week. However, it was announced that Martin Gannon would appear as master of ceremonies, and others to whom parts were assigned include Mayor Wm. Slothower, John Moyer and Forrest Suter.

One of the highlights of the "Follies" will be the ballet chorus, comprised entirely of Dixon's outstanding masculine "chorines." This feature alone will be worth the price of admission. The motto of this "ballet chorus" is "every girl a man and each one a lady." Two shows will be presented, both in the evening, and in addition to the feature picture "The Leathernecks Have Landed."

Shows will be at 7:15 P. M. and at 9:15 P. M.

While the major production will be presented entirely by men, there will be specialties between acts which will also be offered by Dixon talent.

There are 204,800 surface acres of water in Wyoming.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rain! to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels, gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks lousy.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A new bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.
